Wine is one of the oldest drinks. Its origins are related to many myths and legends that speak of it as the "nectar of the gods". In the past it was used during religious rituals, such as the Christian Eucharist, but also for pagans rituals of Greeks and Romans. Wine was a real means of socialization that allowed during banquets to create a "carefree" atmosphere; It was also a distinctive sign of the social and economic position of those who were fortunate enough to drink.
